

2005 TOR Cabernet Sauvignon, Cimarossa Vineyard, Block 10

Tor Kenward's early releases are not only living up to the high praise they received, but taste even stronger at age ten than they were when they were young. This 2005 Cabernet Sauvignon Cimarossa Vineyard from Howell Mountain is a blockbuster.

Intense mulberry and blackberry fruit mixed with wet rocks, forest floor, and licorice are all present in this wine, which has serious concentration, majestic structure and texture, and a long, long finish. It is an adolescent in terms of its development, and probably won't peak for another 3-4 years, but this is stunning wine. It should evolve at least another 15 years.

2005 TOR Proprietary Red, Beckstoffer to Kalon Vineyard

Absolutely magnificent is the 2005 Cabernet Sauvignon Beckstoffer To Kalon (100% from Clone 6). This wine combines elegance and finesse with massive richness, displaying stunning notes of cedar wood, licorice, forest floor, crème de cassis and incense. It is full-bodied, with fabulous purity and intensity, a sumptuous mouthfeel, and a full-bodied, long finish of close to 40+ seconds. This wine is accessible, but there still seems to be a good 10-15 years of upside left to it.
