Few winemakers in Napa can claim four decades of experience with some of Napa’s oldest and most iconic vineyards as can Tor Kenward. Springboarding off 27 years of working with Beringer to help them build their single-vineyard Cabernet Sauvignon and Chardonnay portfolios, Tor knows a thing or two about what’s hot and what’s not when it comes to prime Napa Valley turf. So, when he and his wife, Susan, launched their own label back in 2001, that is precisely what the focus was: expressing what they considered to be the best, most evocative single vineyards in the Valley. It will come as no surprise then to Napa Cab fans that select blocks/clones of Beckstoffer’s To Kalon vineyard heads Tor’s lineup.

Other less obvious yet inspired vineyard partners now include Vine Hill Ranch, Tierra Roja, Melanson and Cimarossa. The Chardonnays include some of my personal vineyard faves, including Hyde Vineyard and Durrell in Sonoma. Tor’s winemaker since the get-go has been Jeff Ames, who in my view expertly captures that sense of time and place that Tor is looking to bottle. This summer, I had a couple of opportunities to taste through the TOR current releases as well as an amazing To Kalon vertical with the newest member of Tor’s team, Matt Deiler, who was recently appointed as the COO for the winery and promises to continue Tor Kenward’s incredible journey. What I love about these wines is that they so clearly achieve what they set out to do: translate the vineyard and the vintage with sensitivity and compelling purity.

This wine comes from a single three-acre Chardonnay vineyard introduced to Tor Kenward by Larry Hyde in 2008. It belonged to one of Larry Hyde's oldest friends in the Napa Valley, Steve Beresini, and was planted three decades ago with cuttings Larry gave Steve. This is now referred to as "Hyde Selection Wente Clone." Today it produces a minuscule crop, usually between one and two tons per acre, with clusters half the normal size. Primary cooperers are Saury and three-year dry aged Francois Frères. The 2017 Chardonnay Beresini Vineyard Cuvee Torchiana opens with lifted lemon, lime and mandarin scents with fresh pears and gin and orange notes. The palate is big, rich, full-bodied, decadent, lively and hedonistic, with spicy and savory layers and a very, very long finish. 314 cases produced. Anticipated maturity: 2019 - 2030.

Torr's block of the Durell Vineyard is on the "Sandy Hill" section of the vineyard, looking down on the Sonoma Valley. The soil is Goulder clay loam, mixed with diatomaceous earth, and millions of years ago, it formed a sandbar reaching into the prehistoric lake that covered the town of Sonoma. Tor favors the Wente clone in this vineyard, which is a selection of plant material that sets a small crop with small berries. The result is a high skin-to-flesh ratio and great concentration of varietal character. The single new barrel cooper used is Saury. The 2017 Tor Chardonnay Durell Vineyard is slightly closed on the nose, opening out to honeyed peaches, lemon tart, melons and savory/toasty notes with yeasty hints. The palate is full-bodied with great intensity of savory flavors, finishing long, satiny and very savory. 343 cases produced. Anticipated maturity: 2019 - 2027.

The 2016 Chardonnay Beresini Vineyard Cuvee Torchiana has a total rock-star nose of tropical fruits, lemon pie, key lime, wet pebbles, lanolin, beeswax and orange blossom. The medium to full-bodied palate is lively, layered, fresh and youthfully subdued, finishing long. This needs time 375 cases produced. Anticipated maturity: 2019 - 2027.

Tor is in a small section of the Hyde vineyard in Carneros, planted to what Larry Hyde calls his "Small Cluster" clone. "I stood in line for these grapes for 14 years, and I think you will agree the wait was well worth it," claimed Tor. "There's not much crop from these vines, but stunning wine. There is only about 20% new oak on this vineyard, and it is made up of the cooper Saury." The 2016 Chardonnay Hyde Vineyard features grapefruit, lemon curd, apricots and chalk dust with touches of nutmeg and white pepper. Full-bodied, decadent and honeyed with citrus and honeyed peaches flavors, it has a pleasantly oily texture and a long, spicy finish. 75 cases produced. Anticipated maturity: 2019 - 2027.

The 2016 Chardonnay Reserve Cuvee Susan gives exuberant pineapple, guava and honeydew melon notes with hints of cedar, brioche, buttered popcorn and allspice. The palate is full-bodied, rich and savory with background acid and a satiny texture, finishing long. Anticipated maturity: 2019 - 2026.

The 2016 Tor Chardonnay Durell Vineyard is closed on the nose, giving lemon peel, grapefruit, slate, white peaches and baking bread aromas. Full-bodied, it's rich, satiny and spicy in the mouth with a long, savory finish. 325 cases produced. Anticipated maturity: 2019 - 2027.

The palate is full-bodied, lively and very vibrant, with firm, grainy, ripe tannins, finishing long and mineral laced. This is a very exciting wine—polished with bags of pedigree and complexity and still so very, very delicious! 600 cases produced. Anticipated maturity: 2022 - 2050.

Cimarossa means "red hill top" in Italian, which aptly defines this very special hillside vineyard, planted on a volcanic cinder cone. The elevation is 2,100 feet, and the soils are predominantly red volcanic rock and dust. The palate is full, rich, muscular, concentrated and lively with very firm, very grainy tannins and a long finish with camphor hints. Anticipated maturity: 2020 - 2039.

The vineyards used in the 2016 Cabernet Sauvignon Napa Valley are from Mt. Veeder, Spring Mountain and Soda Canyon. The 2016 Proprietary Red Black Magic is made up of 60% Cabernet Sauvignon and 40% Petit Verdot sourced from Vine Hill Ranch vineyard. This 25-case bottling comes from the B, F and D blocks, hence its name. This micro-lot is made up of a blend of the three blocks that are used by TOR for Cabernet within the To Kalon vineyard. The B and D blocks were fermented together, while the F block was kept apart from anything else. After blending, this was put into a single new Darnajou barrel where it stayed until bottling, 19 months later. Deep garnet colored, the 2015 Cabernet Sauvignon BFD Beckstoffer to Kalon Vineyard is scented of espresso, earth, black soil, tobacco and fried herbs over core of baked plums and blackcurrant cordial with a wood smoke waft. The Herb Lamb Vineyard is below the Howell Mountain appellation line yet above the St. Helena appellation line. The 2015 Cabernet Sauvignon Herb Lamb Vineyard was fermented in a single closed-top tank for about 14 days. The goal for this wine was not maximum extraction but rather to best express the singular profile of this historic vineyard. It saw no more than two pump-overs a day and had a maximum fermentation temperature of 86 degrees Fahrenheit. Following completion of the primary fermentation, the wine was put down to new Taransaud barrels, where it stayed for 18 months until being bottled unfined and unfiltered. It opens with crème de cassis, black cherry pie, plums and cedar with touches of tobacco, bay leaves and earth. The 2015 Cabernet Sauvignon Oakville Hillside comes from the upper steep terraces of the Tierra Roja vineyard, directly below Dalla Valle. It includes 5% Cabernet Franc from another of Oakville’s vineyards. Fermented in a single closed-top tank, this was allowed to stay on its skins for a little over 30 days. The wine continued to pick up sweetness and depth without adding on any drying tannin, so extended maceration was used. After fermentation this was lightly pressed to new Taransaud and Darnajou barrels. Deep garnet-purple colored, it gives profound crème de cassis, blueberry pie, mulberries, plums, chocolate box, menthol and licorice aromas with underbrush hints. The full-bodied palate is firm, vibrant and earthy with herbal accents, finishing long and earthy. 300 cases produced. Anticipated maturity: 2020 - 2038.

2010 marked the winery’s tenth anniversary, and so they produced this “anniversary” wine. This was hand sorted and destemmed and put in a closed-top tank where it got three pump-overs a day until four days prior to finishing fermentation (which lasted 18 days) when it was backed down to one a day. This was barreled down to a combination of 90% new Darnajou and Taransaud barrels and bottled unfined and unfiltered 18 months later.
